

PAINTERS' STRIKE

Employers Formally Acceded to the Demands of the Men Yesterday Morning.

WILL GO TO WORK TODAY

MOULDERS REPORT THREE SHOPS STILL HOLDING OUT.

The painters and paper hangers have won their strike, which has been on for the past two weeks, and all their terms have been formally agreed to by the six firms which were holding out. Yesterday morning the last of the firms which had refused to accede to the demands of the painters, the lock-out notified the men that they could come back to work on the terms which they have been demanding. These consist of forty-four hours a week at 50 cents an hour, giving a wage of $2.20 per week, with Saturday afternoon off. All the shops will be union shops, though this phase of the question did not enter into the dispute to any extent.

Content Quietly Concluded.

The painters have fought a quiet fight and it has been entirely the fight of labor union. Unlike most strikers, they have not been in a position to receive any aid from their international body, and they were not affiliated with the Utah Federation of Labor. They have conducted their strike in a very peaceable manner and were confident, they state, of winning from the start. All the shops will resume work this morning and a delayed work about the city will go ahead.

The employers have not been in a position to put up any fight at present. Many of them had large contracts and were absolutely unable to obtain men. They have all along maintained that they were not opposed to the men's demands, but that the notice given was too short and they could not grant them at the time without fulfilling all the pending contracts at a loss and some of them had made contracts involving the entire season's work.

The Moulders Still Out.

At the meeting of the Utah Federation of Labor last evening in Labor hall the striking moulders reported that three shops were still holding out against their demands, but that they were every day making progress. They have been successful in getting a number of their demands met, and in securing the recognition of the open shop principle in a number of shops which had at the first been decidedly opposed to it. About half the original number of men who were locked out are still idle.

The federation adjourned early, many desiring to attend the socialist gathering in the same building.

TO ASK APPROPRIATION

Poultry Association Adopts Articles of Incorporation and Will Approach Legislature.

The Utah State Poultry association last evening formally adopted articles of incorporation at a well attended meeting in the Commercial club rooms. Dr. Charles G. Plummer presided. The entire meeting was taken up with the adoption of the articles, which were read section by section and finally adopted. It was stated that the association is not incorporating for any pecuniary benefit that may be derived, but for the object of encouraging the growth of a better class of poultry throughout the state and to increase the number of societies. The legislature will be asked for an appropriation, and it is proposed to hold an annual free show during the second week of January each year. A campaign of education will be begun among the farmers of the state with the idea of encouraging them to raise more fowls and to handle better breeds. They will be taught how to get the most value from their poultry and to take steps to enhance the value of the breeds.

The last meeting of the association will be held in the Commercial club rooms on the first Thursday in June, when it is expected representatives will be present from outlying sections of the state.

REAL ESTATE DULL.

Some Activity in Vicinity of Old Church Farm Property.

This has been an off week in the real estate market. A few good sales have been made, but most of the dealers report business very slow. There is a good demand for small homes and suburban property. There are a number of deals pending, but few are being closed. Supreme Court Judge D. A. Straup has purchased from Benjamin R. Eldredge, through the Peterson Real Estate company, five acres on their property and between Thirtieth and Fourteenth South. The consideration mentioned in the deed was $10. There has been a considerable demand for land in this section since the purchase of the large tract by the Western Pacific, on which it is proposed to locate the railroad to the Mormon church, from whom the land was purchased, was $200 per acre, and this is the price which has generally prevailed in the neighborhood. It is expected there will be a good deal of building in that district when the shops become a reality.

Salt Lake Security & Trust Co.

IN OUR OWN BUILDING, 82-84 Main Street.

NEW BOULEVARD IS INSPECTED

Work Being Prosecuted Actively on Salt Lake's Beautiful Mountain Drive.

MAGNIFICENCE OF SCENERY

SPLENDID VISTAS FROM MANY A POINT.

The new boulevard, destined to be the pride of Salt Lake, and the especial pride of the Commercial club, was inspected yesterday in its present state by a company of visitors who had availed themselves of the invitation of the club. It was pronounced good beyond their hopes.

The start was made from the club at 2:30, the guests filling three carriages, and the drive up City Creek canyon for a mile brought the party to the point selected for the bridge. Long before this point was reached, however, the boulevard winding around the east side was in view, its gangs of men and teams giving a risk to the peace of the hillside. A slender foot bridge crosses the stream, now swollen to enormous size, at a point immediately below the site of the concrete bridge which the city has agreed to build across the chasm. From this place a roadway, more or less destroyed by the elements, winds around the hillside in the general direction of the old lower built years ago by Robert R. Anderson, crossing the city. This road has formed the basis for the boulevard at this place and is rapidly being widened to an average of thirty feet and graded ready for rolling.

Winds Along Eleventh Street.

When this is done, which will be within a very short time, smooth, broad drive of a mile in length to the southeast will bring the sightseer out on the hillside far above the L. D. S. hospital on B street. From this point the roadway will wind around the upper hills along Eleventh street, toward Fort Douglas, merging with the fine macadamized boulevard already completed on the reservation.

The work on the road was begun only within the past fortnight and has progressed with amazing rapidity. Thirty-one teams are now at work grading and a force of about fifty men, under Bishop James Maxwell, is augmenting their work. The overhanging pointing of the road is being brought down and dumped over to widen the drive.

Way to Be Beautified.

The plans now in the minds of the committee include besides the road a number of attractive arrangements along the way. At several points, lookouts and inspection especially, pergolas are to be built, sheltered from the heat and yet open to the view of the valley stretching to the south and west. From the huge bridge two small streams of water are to be led along the driveway, and while the appearance will be that of water running uphill they will follow the contour of the hillside and will be sufficient quantity of water to permit this plan. A strong coping will be put on the road, and in places where the fall is precipitous a strong fence will be erected.

Won't Park Hillside.

No attempt will be made to park the drive through the canyon nor along the hillside emerging therefrom, but from B to Eleventh street along the latter a double row of trees will be planted, and as the water mains run along Thirtieth street there will be no lack of water to extend to the hillside. This will be a point below the military reservation and make an east entrance to Liberty park drive, so that all drives will along it will be free of the possibility of cutting out at many intersecting places.

Isaac Clayton is chairman of the Commercial club committee, which is now pushing the work and that committee will go on with it as far as the present funds will allow. The club has several members who are interested in the plan, as was evidenced by the large number who planned to go yesterday over the course. Among them were C. A. Quigley, Colonel E. W. Wall, L. S. Hills, John E. Dooley, A. W. Carlson, Isaac Clayton, Fisher Morris, Lee, A. F. Doreman, James Murdoch and press representatives.

COSTS OF HIGHWAY TO BE REPEATED

Young Men's Club, After Warm Debate, Changes By-Law Regarding Membership.

WEEDING OUT WAYWARD

SCHEME TO FIND WHO WILL STAND WITHOUT HITCHING.

The jury box in Judge Ritchie's courtroom was thronged with an enthusiastic multitude when the Young Men's Republican club was called to order by President Steve Stanford last night. Had the jury box contained twelve chairs instead of only eight there would have been plenty of room. As it was, the overflow had to be accommodated at the tables reserved for lawyers inside the hall. The business transacted was of the most vital importance to the welfare of the state, county and city.

Assistant County Attorney John Lyon moved that the by-laws be amended to make it possible to charge a dollar a year as dues. The amendment he submitted provided that the treasurer notify all members on or before June 10 of each year that they must come through with a dollar prior to Sept 1 or be canned. This brought Mr. M. Kaig to his feet with eloquent remarks oozing from every pore.

The colonel passionately thought the poor members should receive an official notice that they were to be canned just prior to the canning. He figured that it would be very embarrassing for some men who might possibly wander into a meeting, attempt to speak and have their oratory choked off at the Adam's apple because they had purged themselves. Numerous orators spoke their minds about Colonel Kaig's suggestion. Even Fred Frisling had something to say in regard to the amendment was voted into the proposed by-law.

At this point Will McCrea, who had been acting as temporary secretary, begged to be excused, it being near the curfew hour, and Recorder Jack May the joint building though sometimes he care how late he stays out. When the question had been thoroughly threshed out and a vote was about to be taken, some gentleman desired to know the reason for the annual dues of a dollar. The president explained:

Some Dead; Some Gone.

"The object is to weed out certain members of the Young Men's Republican club," said he. Then, fearing that he might have spoken too strongly, he added: "You see, some of our members are dead and some have joined other parties."

"Aha," said the gentleman who spoke first, making a noise like an officeholder in distress, "so we have to prove our allegiance to the Republican party by donating a round, iron dollar to this club."

The president announced that that seemed to be the case, and the by-law was formally approved. Maybe Billy Langebecker, whose business it is to elevate people who go to the club building, sometimes he lowers them, didn't know the by-law had been adopted. And maybe he did. Anyway, he wanted to be the case, and he rose with: "Mr. Chairman, I move to strike out the words 'one dollar'—a gleam of hope swept over the faces of the jury box and instant in lieu thereof, Billy went on, inexorably, 'two dollars.' With a low moan a number of the members of the club escaped into the hall. But he need not have been scared. Langebecker's motion was received with a loud shout and adjourned to meet June 6 in Judge Whitaker's courtroom, somebody discovered that under the constitution of the club a motion to amend, nor can one be added, unless notice is given at one meeting of the club that it will be brought up at the next meeting. This was the case last night, so the Young Men's Republican club will have some more important business to transact when it again assembles.

PROTESTS TO MR. HITCHCOCK

Governor Cutler Asks Secretary to Prevent Removal of Cliff Dwellings From Utah.

Governor Cutler yesterday forwarded to Secretary of the Interior Hitchcock his official protest against the alleged attempt of Colorado people to remove cliff dwellings in the San Juan and Rio Grande districts of Utah, from this state to Colorado. The governor sent Secretary Hitchcock clippings from the Salt Lake papers bearing on the subject and suggested that, as the proposed removal of the cliff dwellings is a matter of territorial importance, it should be referred to the United States department, Mr. Hitchcock should take immediate steps to prevent it.

DEBATES ARE EIGHT

Meeting Held Preliminary to Organizing for the Campaign of This Fall.

SPEAKERS SURE OF VICTORY

BELIEF GENERAL IN SUCCESS ALL ALONG THE LINE.

What may be considered the first move of the campaign of 1906 was made by the Democrats last evening, when a number of them held a meeting in the office of George D. Alder in the McCormick building. The sentiment of the meeting was "organization" and "fight." Ringing speeches were made by Judge W. H. King, B. H. Roberts, Simon Bamberger and others, and steps were taken to bring about a complete organization of the party in every voting district in the county.

The meeting was in response to invitations issued by the Citizens' Union, which was organized by the Citizens' Union, who got word to all he could reach on the spur of the moment. He felt that it was time to take action, as all members on or before June 10 of each year that they must come through with a dollar prior to Sept 1 or be canned. This brought Mr. M. Kaig to his feet with eloquent remarks oozing from every pore.

After a general discussion of the local political situation, in which a number of hot talks were made, Judge King moved that it be the sense of the meeting that the Chairman Martineau and the county central committee take immediate steps to organize the party throughout the county for the coming campaign.

The motion carried unanimously. Mr. Martineau said that, owing to the demands of his business, it would be necessary for him to resign the chairmanship. It was suggested that this was a matter to be disposed of only by the county central committee. For this reason Mr. Martineau announced that he would call the committee together in a short time. Mr. Martineau said that overtures had been made by the chairman of the two other parties looking to the cutting out of the hiring of the county central committee for election day. While a strong sentiment was expressed in favor of the proposition, it was clearly understood that this was a matter to be disposed of by the general committee. It was announced that this item of hiring carriages would be taken care of from $1,500 to $2,000 for each campaign.

Chairman Simon Bamberger of the state committee announced that the state committee had decided to have the election of Joseph Cohen to the "Americans." He announced that he would call the state committee together in a short time to take action on this matter.

The best of feeling prevailed in the meeting. Confidence was expressed in the success of the party, and a determination was expressed to wage unrelenting warfare against the Republican party. Judge King expressed the conviction that 1906 is to be a Democratic year all along the line.

HIGH SCHOOL FIELD DAY

Ceremonies in Honor of Graduates From Grammar Schools Held on the Campus.

The feature of the field day held yesterday at the High School in honor of the graduates of the grammar schools who were visiting the school was the exhibition drill of the cadets. Fully 1,300 people in the campus and applauded the cadets as they executed the different commands. The drill was given in honor of the board of education and the eighth grade graduates, but there were in attendance many friends and patrons of the school and also officers from the national guard and Fort Douglas.

Promptly at 3 o'clock the large campus was cleared and the cadets marched on in company formations. After the roll call they were formed into the battalion, and while in the battalion formation they went through some setting up and calisthenic exercises, also the order of arms. The calisthenic exercises were accompanied by the field music, and the uniformity in which they were given presented a pretty sight. The cadets then in the Missouri penitentiary for stabbing another husband, the name of whom is unknown to the plaintiff.

The colors were brought on, and the battalion of four companies and comprising 250 men, marched in a grand review which was a delightful spectacle.

This was the last exhibition drill of the cadets this year. They had been practicing for the last month for this occasion, and made a creditable appearance. All of the cadets were neatly attired in the regulation full-dress uniform, and their willingness to participate in the Decoration day parade. After school has closed the cadets will be in the Missouri penitentiary for stabbing another husband, the name of whom is unknown to the plaintiff.

After the drill the cadets assembled on the front steps of the building, where they received certificates for their services. Warrants were issued to the non-commissioned officers and commissions to the officers. Those who received commissions were: Captain Curtis Clawson, Fred Bassett, Will Grow, Lester Moreton, Walter Keyting, Russell Sands; also Adjutant and Scout Lynde who is now attending school in Annapolis; First Lieutenant Vaughn Paul, Charles Hines, Monte Elliott and Roy Billings, Second Lieutenant Edgar and Howard Young. There were fifty-six non-commissioned officers who received warrants.

The grammar school graduates were conducted through the building and allowed to inspect the work of the High School. In the chemistry and physics classes a special set of experiments were performed for them. An explanation of the work done in the High School and also the course of study was given.

In the morning a big assembly was held on the lawn in front of the building. The feature of the occasion was the raising of the new flag which has been presented to the school. After Professor L. M. Gilliland had made a few remarks the flag was raised. While the flag was being raised the bugle corps of the cadets, consisting of sixteen bugles, blew. "To the colors." Colonel George Squires of the Grand Army of the Republic gave a patriotic address. The talk was a very spirited one and was well applauded. After a few of the school were given the program was concluded by the singing of "America."

Text of New Rules Sent to MEMBERS.

The Alta club is to be an exclusive men's club hereafter. At any rate, the exceptions to the rule, "For men only," will be so few and so far between that they will not count. A new set of rules has grown out of the last meeting of the directors, which in turn is said to have grown out of some few meetings not so formal nor so sedate within the sacred precincts of the exclusive place. Members yesterday received the following:

Text of New Rules.

1. Ladies of the immediate family of a member and their invited guests or ladies when accompanied by a member, are extended the privileges of the club for luncheon and short talks on Thursdays and also for dinner on Sundays. Ladies are not admitted to the club after 8 p. m. on the above days, nor at any hour on other days.

2. Music will not be permitted in the club except with the permission of the board of directors.

3. Other than the general dining-rooms shall not be used except under such regulations as may be provided by the executive committee.

4. The secretary will cause copies of these rules to be posted in the club and mailed to all members.

5. These rules to become effective June 10, 1906.

Approved by the board of directors, May 15, 1906.

A giving member of the club telephoned The Herald last evening, suggesting that in view of the 8 o'clock rule, a number of members made the upper corridors about 9 o'clock and see that all lights are out and all members properly tucked in their little beds.
